

W. DREW WILSON

ADMINISTRATIVE DIRECTOR OF FACILITIES & OPERATIONS

RE: Brian Burk

To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to take this opportunity recommend the work of Brian Burk. I had the opportunity to work with Brian on our new Plain City Elementary School which was built in 2006.

As the director of facilities and operations in Weber School District, it is my job to oversee construction in our district. The completion of Plain City Elementary, a $12 million dollar school, encompassed 80,000 square feet on 13 acres requiring several thousand yards of import material, was constructed in eleven months, which was under the time schedule and within budget. This alone says a lot about Brian Burk.

Brian attended all of the weekly meetings, enabling us to work through any questions or problems that came up during the previous week. It was an extremely cold winter which could have caused delays, but Brian was able to complete the project on time for the upcoming school year. This was accomplished because of Brian's relationship and direct involvement with his personnel, subcontractor's, and Weber School District. By utilizing critical path scheduling Brian was able to keep the project on track.

On a personal note, Brian's dedication to whatever job he is given is based on his work ethic and his willingness to go the extra mile. When problems arise, he has the determination to evaluate the problem and the tenacity to stay with the project until it is complete. He is extremely professional, knowledgeable and diplomatic which goes a long way toward breaking down barriers and eliciting confidence from his co-workers. Because of his organizational skills and cooperation with his sub-contractors, he is able to schedule them so a project flows smoothly without interruption. It is a pleasure working with Brian due to his in depth knowledge in all aspects of the construction phases. Change orders are of the utmost importance on a project like this and they were always fair, consistent and reasonable.

I highly recommend, without reservation, Brian Burk for any job they apply for.

Respectfully,

W. Drew Wilson
